Bibiana Beglau
Actress

Bibiana Beglau began appearing on the most important stages of German-speaking theater immediately upon graduating from the Hamburg Hochschule for Music and Theater. Since the beginning of her career, she has worked with the directors responsible for transforming contemporary theater and cinema. She performed regularly under the direction of Barbara Frey, Christoph Schlingensief, Dimiter Gotscheff, Einar Schleef, Frank Castorf, Luk Perceval, Martin Kušej, Sebastian Nübling and Thomas Ostermeier before winning national and international acclaim for her leading role in Volker Schlöndorff's feature film 'The Legend of Rita'.

Bibiana Beglau has been honored many times over for her outstanding performances, including with the Silver Bear of the Berlinale as best actress, the Ulrich Wildgruber Prize and the Adolf Grimme Prize. She was chosen 'Actress of the Year' in 2014 by the renowned trade magazine 'Theater heute' and honored with the German Theater Prize 'Der Faust' in 2015 for her exceptional acting achievements. In the same year, Bibiana Beglau was appointed member of the Academy of the Arts as well as the Bavarian Academy of Fine Arts. Alongside theatrical engagements at all of the most important German-speaking theaters including the Burgtheater in Vienna, the Deutsches Theater, Schaubühne Berlin, Residenztheater Munich, Schauspielhaus Hamburg, Schauspielhaus Zürich, Residenztheater München, Thalia Theater Hamburg or Volksbühne Berlin. Bibiana Beglau has performed in many major film and television productions including 'Across Barbarossa Platz', 'Crescendo', 'Different Kinds Of Rain', 'Freedom', 'Sieben Stunden' ('Seven Hours'), 'The Ninth Day', 'Under the Ice', 'What You Don't See' and 'Zappelphilipp' ('Fidgety Philipp').

Her dramatic intensity as well as her confident interpretations of the most contradictory emotions are as appreciated by directors as they are widely regarded by the press. Her performances reveal exceptional acting intelligence as well as a unique and dazzling physicality with which she brings her roles to life. Time and again in her performances, Bibiana Beglau transcends the limits of acting, creating impressive studies of human character together with directors with whom she has enjoyed long standing artistic collaborations, such as with Christian Görlitz, Connie Walther, Dror Zahavi, Florian Hoffmeister, Hanna Doose, Irene von Alberti, Isa Prahl, Jan Bonny, Viviane Andereggen, Volker Schlöndorff and Wolfgang Fischer.

Bibiana Beglau is active as an actress throughout the German-speaking world and lives in Berlin and Vienna.
