Sina Martens
Actress

Sina Martens completed acting studies at the Hochschule for Music and Theater 'Felix Mendelssohn Bartholdy' in Leipzig. Already during her third year of studies, she was hired by Sebastian Hartmann at the Central Theater in Leipzig. Engagements followed at the Berliner Ensemble, HAU Berlin, and the Frankfurt and Hannover Theaters. She began working there very early on with directors who have significantly influenced and shaped contemporary theater, such as Alexander Eisenach, Bernadette Sonnenbichler, Ersan Mondtag, Frank Castorf, Lena Brasch, Michael Thalheimer and Robert Borgmann.

She is the recipient of many awards for her special and outstanding acting talents, moreover, with the Award of the German Federal Ministry for Education and Research, the Fellowship of the German National Academic Foundation and the International Forum of the Berlin Theatertreffen Theater Festival, the Daphne Prize for outstanding acting and was voted Young Actress of the Year by the theater magazine 'Theater heute' ('Theater Today'). Alongside her many appearances in the theater, she may also be seen in ambitious film and television productions like 'Blindspot Berlin', 'Delicious', 'Die geschützten Männer' ('The Protected Men'), 'Einmal Immer' ('Once Always'), 'In Liebe, Eure Hilde' ('With Love, Hilde'), 'Landesverräter' ('Traitors'), 'Trunk - Locked In', 'Weightless' as well as and the series 'I Don't Work Here' or 'Unfamiliar'.

Sina Martens' distinctive ease in performing brings her characters almost poetically to life. Her extraordinary sensitivity and intuition in portraying human motivation are valued by audiences and directors alike including Andreas Dresen, David Nawrath, Irene von Alberti, Lars Becker, Lennart Ruff, Marc Schießer, Michael Krummenacher, Nele Mueller-Stöfen and Philipp Leinemann. Both on stage as well as on screen, she distinguishes herself in her nuanced and sensitive performances, changing effortlessly between genres. The press applauds and esteems her as one of the outstanding actresses of her generation and celebrates her exceptional presence as well as her precise empathy for the characters she portrays. The trade magazine 'Theater heute' writes: 'There is not a moment along the way when she loses the connection to her counterpart. A face that can trace such movement is virtually made for cinematic images. For close-ups that merge distance and immediacy. Sina Martens is touching when she looks this banal reality in the eye. That is surely another point where Hollywood and the language of German theater meet.'

Sina Martens works as an actress in the German-speaking world and lives in Berlin.
